

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Friday Morning, July 4.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES. By Carrier - - - - - 30 cents per week. By Mail - - - - - $10.00 per year.

OFFICE: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's spring goods. Whisky is supposed to go Fourth to-day. Bushnell sells railroad tickets cheap to all points. The shoots at the driving park to-day will excite much interest.

The Methodists have decided to build a new church on the Fourth. On and after to-day the drink as well as the drinker will be judged. The Wabash mail will close promptly at ten minutes before one o'clock to-day.

The house of H. DeLong on upper Broadway has been raised about three feet. Barrett's big circus is one of the prominent features of the Fourth in Council Bluffs.

The business men along Broadway are very anxious to have the paving done before the fall business opens. A brick sidewalk with stone curbing is taking the place of the mud in front of the city building and city jail.

H. P. Warren, the deputy clerk of the circuit court, has received from California a fine picture of Blaine framed with cones. Old man Wilson, the shoemaker, who has been getting ready for it for two or three days, is now letting strong drink alone, he being behind the bars.

Next Monday night the Blaine and Logan boys in blue will meet, the storm having caused the postponement of the meeting announced for last Monday night. The summer school, which it was proposed to open in the Methodist church, will not start up, there being too much agitation about the safety of the building.

Justice Schurz yesterday officiated at the wedding of Henry Ochler to Anna Marsau, both of Minden. The ceremony was performed at the Creston house parlors. The postoffice will be open this morning from 10 o'clock to 12. The carriers will make but on delivery and collection in the morning, the other deliveries being at their windows.

In the superior court yesterday there were two drunks, C. B. Albany and Jacob Henning, each fined. Craig Mandice and John Miller were fined for disturbing the peace. It now remains with the citizens of Council Bluffs to say whether they will have a fair trial or not. It costs $5 a vote and there ought to be a good many votes in favor of it.

The modern cornice of the Methodist church has been taken off, and the promise is made that the cracks will be taken away next week—that is, the building is to be repaired a little. Henry De Long has completed a fine stretch of brick sidewalk along Broadway from Frank to Grace street, a ten-foot walk with stone curbing, making one of the best lines of walk in the city.

The law in regard to houses of prostitution goes into effect to-day. Last night the keepers of these houses turned all their girls out of doors rather than to risk the penalty. Quite a delegation of the soiled doves went over to Omaha on the 11 o'clock dummy.

James Perry is tearing down his wooden building on Broadway, and is to put in its place a handsome brick one, 22x50 feet, two stories. George Fauble has the contract, and the front is to be similar to that being put up by Wm. Smith, near by. The fellow giving his name as Ed. Newton, and who was arrested for running a swindling game on the street, is to have a hearing before Justice Schurz to-morrow, the case being taken away from Justice Abbott on the claim of prejudice.

Justice Abbott yesterday tied the matrimonial noose, joining Henry Baer, of York, Neb., and Emma Walder, of Paris, Iowa, as husband and wife. Mr. Baer is a furniture dealer at York. The wedding was a grand affair, the ceremony being performed in the Pacific house parlors. The wagon-poles of teams coming up to the drinking fountain on Broadway, near Bryant have thumped against it so that it has injured it some, and to prevent further accident there was yesterday put up a rough board protection, which mars the looks of the fountain, but may protect it. The report that Alex. Burke, the watchman for the waterworks at Glen avenue, was discharged, has no foundation to it, the fact being that he has left the position of his own free will and accord. One thing is certain, he has filled the place well, being faithful to his duties, and it will be difficult to get a man to fill the place as well. L. De Bevoise, the smiling spirit, who is in charge of the Union ticket office, 507 Broadway, is busy dealing out excursion tickets on the different roads. It is cheap time to travel. The Sioux City route across are of the most popular of all, especially with the round trip fare to Spirit Lake and return being only $9.00. Major Vaughan, although a democrat, did not seem to enthuse so over the arrival of the democratic delegation from California as over the republican delegation. "Not a sound was heard, not a funeral note," as their forms to Chicago were hurried. No Bavarian band, no offer of a hundred carriages, no other of a hundred carriages, no other speeches, no resolutions on their arrival here. The dining-room girls at the Ogden had a bad scare Wednesday night. On retiring for the night they left their doors unlocked and some late stragglers of the masculine sex strolled in, either by mistake or with malice aforethought. Whichever it was, it frightened the girls terribly, and they screamed so that it evidently frightened the fellow, for he skipped out in a hurry, while the feminine screams called help to the hall, in which there was a confused flutter of white raiments.

SCATTERED BY THE STORM.

The Wind Causes Much Havoc and Some Damage. There have been so many heavy windstorms of late that Council Bluffites are getting so that they cannot sleep well nights unless the blinds are rattling and the shingles flying as a sort of a lullaby. The storm yesterday morning broke trees down badly, tipped over out-houses and sheds, demoralized some fences, and scattered movable in all directions.

The roof of Deere, Wells & Co.'s large warehouse was quite badly damaged, the tin being rolled up and some of the timbers unjointed. Some of the tin on David Bradley & Co.'s big building was also lifted and torn by the wind. The Chicago and Rock Island coal sheds were somewhat broken by the storm.

A barn belonging to Mrs. Donahay, corner of Fourth avenue and Eleventh street, was full of broken trees yesterday morning, and some fences were down. The hatchway door leading to the tower of the Rescue engine house was blown about striking the bell and caused the tap of a false fire alarm.

A hatchway door in Eph. Huntington's house blew off, letting the rain drive in in almost drowning quantities. The Kingsland's house was drenched in a like manner. A tight board fence at Mr. Bray's blew over, damaging and destroying about a hundred of Mrs. Bray's choice plants.

At the institution for the deaf and dumb some fencing was blown down and other damage done. Congressman Casey's cherry trees were badly broken down. Bayla's park again suffered, a large number of limbs being taken off. A few more such storms and the park will be of the baldhead.

Word was received from Neola yesterday that the storm was very fierce there and much damage done, especially to corn. The fall of rain drenched the streets, and made still more gullies and ponds in the newly-filled parts of the city. Seventh street near Sixth avenue is impassable, there being a great pond stretching from sidewalk to sidewalk.

Judge James mourns the breaking down of two or three fine trees, for which he says he would not have taken $100 a piece. The Chicago & Northwestern was about eight hours late yesterday on account of the washing out of about 500 yards of the track near Denison.

John Stalter's house, which was being raised when storm No. 2 struck the city, was so undermined by the rain that it has sunk into the cellar, causing a damage of one or two hundred dollars. Yesterday morning's wind blew off the awning. A portion of the corner of Wm. Smith's new building was blown off, the falling brick battering the zinc cornice, somewhat. The lightning killed a valuable cow belonging to Chas. Sheils, of Hardin township. Small grain in that vicinity was injured by the storm, and small out-budings were blown over.

The foundation of Eiseman, Rodda & Co.'s store was undermined a little, the rain washing in the excavation being made for the addition to the building.

REPENTING IN HASTE. The Aldermen Conclude They Were Too Rash About the Iron-Clad Oath. At the Tuesday afternoon meeting of city council an ordinance was rushed through providing that no certificate of assessment against property for street improvements would be issued to a contractor unless he took an iron-clad oath that he had not made any arrangement for the disposal of the certificate at any time, and that he had no private understanding with the property owners to do the work for less than named in the certificate. The nonsense of the thing seemed to have dawned on some of the aldermen and the city attorney after the ordinance had passed, and a dash was made for the original document to stop its going into the hands of the printer. Another ordinance passed later, has appeared in the official paper of the city, but this is held back, for, as one of the sages remarked, "if the people ever read this they will think we are gone daft sure. What will be done with the smothered ordinance is a conundrum. An attempt may be made to have it published after a little, hoping to escape public notice, but many wonder why if it is such a good ordinance, and so much in the interests of the dear people, there should be such an attempt to hold it back. It is fast getting so that the secret of behind the scenes sessions of the council and consultations of the city officials are more interesting than the so-called public sessions.

To-Day's Celebration. The observance of the Fourth by the Ancient Order of Hibernians promises to be an enjoyable and successful one. A large number are expected to arrive from Omaha, with the Hibernian band of that place. They will be received by the A. O. U. M. of this city, with the new Council Bluffs band. A grand procession will be formed, and the line of march taken to Dohane's grove at the head of Glen avenue, where a picnic will be held. There will be exercises there appropriate to the day, Rev. Father McMenamy being president of the day. St. G. Griffin will read the declaration of independence, and Judge E. R. Paige, who is now one of the editors of the Saturday Evening Herald, of Chicago, will deliver the oration. There will be games and other necessities of a happy Fourth of July picnic, and a dance at the rink in the evening.

STRUCK ANOTHER SUCKER. A Trick Turned on a Verdant Young Man Near Malvern.

The confidence crooks still ply their tricks on the different roads running into this city. One of the latest is thus told by the Malvern Leader: As No. 2 pulled into Malvern Sunday evening an old-time confidence game was played, whereby a verdant young man parted with all his ready money. Said young man lived at Mendota, Ill., and had a ticket for that point. The confidence man approached him and upon learning his destination assured him that he was bound for the same port,—was well acquainted there, had a brother in business there, etc., etc., but he was in trouble, he said. He had a lot of baggage on the train which would be put off at the next station—Hastings—unless he could pay the charges on them. Would the young man from Mendota lend him $23 until they got through? The young man from Mendota had but $20 and this amount he freely turned over to his newly found friend, taking as security a $250 check (?) on a Missouri bank. The man went forward immediately to see about paying his baggage charges and when the train stopped for the crossing, he stepped off. Later, it is thought he took a Wabash train for the Bluffs. A brakeman informed the Mendota man that his friend had left the train and when he reached Hastings he faced about and returned here, but no trace could be found of his victimizer. He continued his journey homeward the following day a wiser albeita poorer youth.

Queer Law. There seems to be some difficulty in settling the question of where a case will go to when taken away from Judge Aylesworth, of the superior court, on a change of venue. About six weeks ago John Swinger was brought before the superior court on a charge of assault and battery, and by his attorney a change of venue was taken. Judge Aylesworth, following the statute in regard to the superior courts, sent the case to the district court, but Judge Loebow sent it back, he finding in the statutes in regard to district court no provision giving the district court jurisdiction in criminal cases, except as brought before the court by indictment. Yesterday afternoon the case was called up in the superior court again, and Judge Aylesworth dismissed it. The man has been lying in jail for six weeks while the case has been pending. The views taken of the law by Judge Loebow and Judge Aylesworth place such cases in a peculiar position, indeed. The judge of the superior court is told by the law to send cases to the district court, but the law governing district courts does not seem to give any power receive them. How the next case of this kind will be disposed of is a mystery, but it is probable that it will be disposed of in the same way.

PERSONAL. Judge James is back from Des Moines. H. H. Home left yesterday for a business trip in Nebraska. Judge Loebow is set down for an oral trial at Sidney to-day. Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Tanner, of Neola, were in the city yesterday. Officer Brooks has been laid up for a few days, but is out again. Rev. M. Reed has resigned the pastorate of the Baptist church at Emerson. E. C. Whittlesey, of the Globe has gone to Chicago to attend the convention. Mrs. Anna E. Boone is visiting her mother, Mrs. R. S. Cole, and greeting her many old friends here. Rev. J. Sims, who has been visiting his son, Mr. Jacob Sims, of this city, left yesterday for his Wisconsin home. Oscar Keplinger now stops to carry one in adding up the columns of Farman's books. It's a boy and Oscar is a regular Oscar Wild with delight. F. P. Whitney, who travels for H. H. Home & Co., returned to the city yesterday for a few hours only, leaving last evening for the road again. Mr. and Mrs. J. Wormuth, of New York, are in the city, the guests of Mrs. T. A. Clark. Mrs. Wormuth is a sister of Mr. T. A. Clark, locating engineer of the Union Pacific. J. A. Bede, formerly of the Tabor Union-Arrow, and more recently connected with the Shenandoah Post, will publish the Campaign Hatchet at Sidney, Iowa, from the first of August until after the campaign. In the prospectus sent out there is a plea for the support to give the republican ticket a strong support. The prospectus also gives a little biograph for John Y. Stone for congress from this district.
